FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

30 March 2010

BRIGADOON 2010 – Bottled Water Free

The Bundanoon Highland Gathering is regarded by reputation as one of the finest Scottish gatherings in the world and this year it has embraced and supported the concept of the Bundy on Tap campaign which has gathered world wide attention by becoming the first town in the world to become “bottle water” free. Therefore in 2010, The Bundanoon Highland Gathering goes bottled water free.

To our knowledge, the Bundanoon Highland Gathering this year will be the largest bottled water free event of its type ever held. Yes, this means you cannot buy bottled water at the Bundanoon Highland Gathering. Why because its free!!!!

Just fill up at one of our Water filling stations sponsored by Culligan Water, go back as many times as you like..... it’s all totally free. There will also be volunteers with backpacks moving around to fill your bottles with filtered water. That’s right, fresh cold filtered water absolutely free.

In addition, do not worry if you have bought bottled water into the ground we will not ask you to leave. When you finish your bottle, take it to our Culligan Water stand for a free fill up.
