NEAR & FAR – PHOTOGRAPHY EXHIBITION

At The Milk Factory Gallery, Bowral

26 March – 26 April 2010

Near & Far is a premiere release of new works from the Southern Highlands, Paris, Italy and the UK by local award winning photographers, Terry Muller-Maher and Mark Kelly. Both have held highly successful exhibitions in the past, their entirely different approach to photography promises the viewer an exhibition incorporating both classic and technically driven styles.

Terry enjoys the experiences and challenges of scouring the streets for opportune moments worthy of capture, as well as the more tranquil study of landscape photography. She also uses her capacity to pre visualise a photographic project by staging or setting concepts resulting with works that have more of a quirky or whimsical appeal. She has a studio in Bowral producing commercial commissions, fine art and portraiture.

With a background in engineering Mark uses the full gamut of technology to produce creative works that go beyond what the eye can see. Working on a broad selection of subject matter Mark interprets the landscape in a variety of ways. His images in the exhibition include several floral studies which have undergone an array of techniques to create beautiful and unusual fine art images.
