BLU METAL
VINEYARD
POETRY ON A PLATE
17 September 2009

The second in the series of Poetry on a Plate will be held at Bluemetal Vineyard on Thursday 17 September. Judith Beveridge is regarded as one of Australia's finest poets and all of her books have won major awards. She will be reading from a selection of her work.

"One of Australia's most gifted poets of both the natural and human world," Michael Brennan, poet and critic.

The readings and lunch take place in the Bluemetal Vineyard Cellar door and Café starting at 12pm. It is a wonderful opportunity to listen to poetry whilst enjoying lunch in a beautiful vineyard setting. The lunch includes a Jackaroos Plate filled with local produce and tea or coffee. The Cellar Door is also open for wine tastings and sales.

Places are limited so bookings are essential. Please call (02) 4877 1877 or email wine@bluemetalvineyard.com. Cost $40 per person. Inquiries and registrations: writingworkshops@bigpond.com

Bluemetal Vineyard is the highest in the Southern Highlands and produces single estate, award winning wines from its 11 hectare vineyard. There is a range of wines which includes whites: Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Gris and a Fumé Blanc and red wines: Sangiovese Rosé, Petit Verdot, and The Cabernets. The Cellar Door is open Thursday to Monday from 10am to 5pm and the Café is open every weekend from 11am to 4pm.
