CUTTAWAY CREEK – CHAMPIONS OF SUCCESS

Nicki and Dave Penn of Cuttaway Creek Raspberry Farm have been crowned "Champions" at the 2009 Sydney Royal Fine Food Show.

Their Raspberry Wine Vinegar was awarded a Gold Medal and went on to receive the Champion Savoury Product Award. The vinegar then went on to win the Champion Regional Food Exhibit Award – the highest possible achievement in the Regional Food Competition. In addition their Raspberry Jam and Raspberry & Blackberry Jam were both awarded Silver Medals.

Cuttaway Creek Raspberry Farm were also awarded Gold Medals for their Raspberry Wine Vinegar and their Raspberry Dessert Sauce at the 2009 Melbourne Fine Food Show. At the 2009 Hobart Fine Food Awards, Cuttaway Creek Raspberry Farm were awarded Gold Medals for their Raspberry & Blackberry Jam, Three Fruit Marmalade and their Rhubarb & Ginger Jam.

The Raspberry Wine Vinegar was also awarded a Gold Medal at the 2009 Vogue Entertaining Producer of the Year Awards.

Nicki Penn said they were thrilled to have received such high recognition in a very competitive industry. "After all the hard work that's gone into growing our fruit and developing our products, it's great to be acknowledged with these awards. Receiving the Champion Regional Food Exhibit Award was our greatest achievement to date and will create great commercial opportunities for us. We are part of the emerging Food and Wine Industry in the Southern Highlands and it is terrific not only from our point of view, but also because we believe it assists in building the profile of the region as a premium food destination."

Cuttaway Creek Raspberry Farm make a range of award winning jams, marmalades, dessert sauces and vinegars. All their products are handmade on the farm using 100% Australian grown ingredients. They contain no artificial colours, flavourings or preservatives. All products are available at selected retail outlets in the Southern Highlands (including the Visitor Information Centre in Mittagong) as well as retail outlets in Sydney and interstate.
