

SO ACCESSIBLE - THE SOUTHERN HIGHLANDS

Located just over 60 minutes from Sydney, 90 minutes from the National Capital, Canberra and 55 minutes from the coast, the Southern Highlands is indeed one of the easiest locations in NSW to visit. Dual carriageways and expressways make the drive from both Sydney and Canberra just sooo easy!

The Southern Highlands is a country region, consisting of three larger towns, Bowral, Mittagong & Moss Vale. Add to this an assortment of small and large villages dotted throughout the landscape and you have the Southern Highlands. Shopping offers the everything from unique Antiques through to roadside stalls selling farm grown produce.

The largest natural attraction in the region is the Morton National Park which comprises 1000's of hectares of pristine bushland and as luck may have it, three magnificent waterfalls with easy access for visitors right on our doorstep. This national park offers a wide range of bushwalking in a landscape, which is uniquely Australian.

The climate too, is an attraction in itself. Four distinct seasons offering different experiences and attractions each season. Fresh air though, is always guaranteed, with the region rising to a height of approximately 610 metres above sea level, producing a noticeably cooler highland climate (compared to the Sydney and coastal regions), which can be very cold, but refreshing, in winter and excellent in the warmer months, as humidity rarely reaches these heights.

This 'cooler climate' has also lent itself to the development of a local wine industry which continues to grow, going from strength to strength. Producing cool climate wines are none less than Wineries, which are supported by at least Vineyards.

Visitors to the area are also able to enjoy the world famous Bradman Museum of Cricket in Bowral and the Sturt Gallery in Mittagong. Both renowned for their individual attributes and both, attracting a wide range of visitors each year.

Garden lovers, also make the Southern Highlands a must visit destination every Spring and Autumn. With a large number of private gardens and estates opening their gates for visitors during both seasons.

The Southern Highlands is the perfect destination for day trips, short stays and for those who have more time, longer stays are also well catered for. Accommodation choices are excellent with everything on offer from camp sites through to five star luxury resorts and bed & breakfasts.
